THE FISCAL CONTROVERSY.

Policy Of The Empty Cupboard.

Sin, In my last letter I pointed out what I conneive to be the risks and dangers which this country runs by keeping no store at all of breadstuffs, and I will now show from the history of past legislation how present this danger has been to the Government of our country in the past. The legislation may be conveniently divided under three heads-(1) laws regulating the exportation of corn from the country; (3) laws regulating the importation of cora; and (3) laws intended to promote agriculture within the Kingdom,

In 1360 exportation was prohibited. In 1436 exportation was allowed when the price of wheat, &c., did not exceed certain specified sums, and with variations in the prices and some of the conditions. This state of affairs was continued by various Acts (in 1442, 1444, 1552, 1554, 1562) down to 1570, when a freer system of exportation under the direction of presidents was tried; But the price limit was again imposed in 1593 with a duty, and this was confirmed in 1604, 1623, 1927, 1660, 1683, down to 1870, when exportation was allowed with out regard to price, subject to the high duties then already in force, namely, 48s. per quarter for wheat, and proportionately high rates for rye, peas, beans, barely, malt, and oats. In 1688 (the fint year of the reign of William and Mary) not LISHMENT in Hongkong. Fully only was exportation allowed when prices were not above certain sums (48s. per quarter for wheat), but bounties on the exportation were granted. In 1669 exportstion was published for one year, the next year the bounty was suspended for one year, and in 1700 it was given up and all duties were also removed. In 1706 there were bounties on exportation. In 1709 exportation was prohibited for a year. In 1741 it was again prohibited for a few months. In 1751 bounties were again created. From 1757 to 1773 at short intervals the exportation of corn, and distilling from wheat or wheat flour, were from time to time prohibited. In 1790 no British THE Undersigned has received instruct grain was allowed to be exported except in tions from C. Rogge, Esq., to Sell by apecified quantities for the use of the sugar colonies. In 1793 exportation was prohibited except when the prices were under certain fixed sums, and in 1795 the King, with the cousent of the Pricy Council, was given po er to prohibit exportation altogether. In consequence of a report of a committee of the House of Commons an Act was passed in 1804 by which the whole question was regulated by certain schedules which gave the prices under which corn might be exported with bounties so assessed as greatly to encourage exportation when the price was under a certain fixed sum per quarter. SILE TAPESTAY DRAWING ROOM SUITE, From this point to the time of the abilition of the Corn Laws the statute-book teems with Acts of Parliament containing, however no particularly new and good suggestions. It need hardly be observed that VERY FIRE EXTENSION DINING TABLE when any country is in the fortunate (11 Leaves), Dinico Chairs. > importation to the Kingdom of foodstuffs from 1202 to 1463 the importation of foreign grain was limited. In 1463 it was prohibited unless the price here exceeded a certain sum. In 1660 it was allowed on payment of dues calculated according to the current prices, and speaking roughly, this policy was continued by Acts passed in 1663, 1670, 1685, 1729, and 1732, In 1757 the duties were suspended and importation allowed duty free in ships of foreign nations in smity with Great Britain until 1757. An 1766 1767 and 1768 importation was pllowed duty free, and, again speaking roughly, this continued to 1773, when the importation of foreign grain again was permitted at all time, and places when the price of wheat was above 48s, per quarter and other grain; in proportion. In 1783 and 1790, importation was vallowed at low rates. in 1791 the Act which regulated at fixed tatiffs important of born was passed. By the Act of 1804 already referred to the principle which Mr. Chamberlain is now struggling for was made the law of the land. While wheat from plantations of Quebec or the other colonies or plantations in North Americs could be imported at a duty of 24s. 3d. per quarter when the price was at or above 63s. per quarter, and at very much lesser duties (sinking to 6d. per quarter) at slightly higher prices, wheat from other countries was subject to a fixed limit of 63s. per quarter, a preference of 10s, per quarter in favour of bur bulonies. As in the case of exports the Statute-book from this time to the abolition of the Corn Laws has many enactments, none of them containing any suggestions which were both novel and advantageous. ### HOW CAN WORKMEN'S INDO. LENCE BE ENDED?

Engineering, discussing the various systems of remunerating labour, contends that there is a need for some mutual arrangement whereby waste in the workshop, whether it be of time or materials, shall be worted, or, if that he impossible, minimis. ed. That there are men who will shirk their duty, whenever possible, goes without saying. All men of experience know that such is the case, and no one is hardy enough ; to defend it. In the Amalgamated Society of Engineers, in the Boiler-Makers' and Iron Shipbuilders' Society, and other trades steps have been taken to get rid of malingerers; but the men dealt with are - those only who rob the Society and their brother-members by being on the funds when work is available, if the man is industrious enough to seek it, and sober enough to retain it when obtained. That is, of course, just the class of mun most JEWELLERY DEALER AND GOLD likely to shirk an honest fair day's work when employed; but it is to be feared that there are others, though not so had, who do not throw themselves into their work asthey ought to do on the principle of a fair CURIOS, IVORY WARES, and best quality of China Grass Cloth and Chinese day's work for a fair day's wage. They may not be actuated by malice aforethought, but they are naturally indolent. If they have any energy at all, it is expended in sports and pastimes. Several devices have been tried to induce workmen to do their level best during working hours, and some success has attended these efforts. Profit-sharing and industrial partnerships have been tried on a large scale, with excellent results. But a large section of employers do not care to try any of these system. The bonus system seems to many a possible solution of the problem. BRANCH The Engineers, it seems, have consented to adopt it, and they resent any attempt to abolish it. It must be understood that the Amalgamated Society does not belong to the Engineering and Shipbuilding Trades Federation, whose condemnation of the system was published last week. Some of the labour leaders vigorously protest against it, others are more guarded. That there may be defects in the system may be conceded; but what is wanted is that each workman shall honestly do his part to earn his wages, and that, at the same time, the speedier and better workman shall reap the reward of his superior skill and his more carnest industry. Workmen must remember that if they render poor service for the wages paid, they are just as much sweaters as are employers who try to force down The much vannted trade-union rule is a fair day's wage for a fair day's Solicited. ### STEAMER DEPARTURES.

The following table is a chronologically arranged list of mail steamer ol sailings to Europe, America, Canada, and Australia. Coast ports, Manila, and Japan are not given, for steamers are constantly sailing for those ports. All the American steamers call at Japan, and the majority of the Australian boats call at Manila, and, in addition to those vessels, special steamers run there. The departure of every steamer is subject to alteration. The P. & O. mails usually reach London in about 28 days, and the French and German in about 28 or 30 days.

IMPROVING CANTON.

THE Cantonese are now busily engaged in an enterprise which is more striking to the imagination than anything attempted by them for centuries. Once the Chinese were capable of great 12, Queen's Road Central, achievements in the way of manual labour. Tsin Wong Tai built the Great Wall-which, as our readers know, is about fifteen hundred miles long-and was ten years over the work. Kublai, the founder of the Mongol dynasty commenced the Grand Canal in A.D. 1282, and finished it in seven years. It is to be noted that each of these was the founder of a new dynasty. The present race appears to have let such of their early work, even their city walls. fall into disrepair, and are too listless and upenterprising to attempt anything new. The filling of the north shore of the Canton river, and the building of a substantial band, which will be more than two miles long, will, therefore, be regarded by them as a matter of great importance, of which, when it is finished, they will, of course, be very proud. It will be seen from the briof reference in our Canton notes of yesterday that the Canton press is agitating that the work be entrusted to a commercial

Whether Ling Chi will be abolished in the near future or not is doubtful, says the sent the abolition has not gone beyond the suggestion stage. A few days ago the terrible sentence was carried out in Peking on a man named Wang Wei-chin, who some weeks ago murdered twelve members of his family in the Funing district. The crime was a deliberate and particularly coldblooded one, and one of the Board of Punishment officials urged that even Ling Chi was too lenient a penalty and that Ko Tso or cutting into small pieces was far more fitted to his dastardly deed. However Ling Chi was finally decided on, and it is stated that the execution was witnessed by a large number of speciators, including many foreigner, with kodaks.-Superior Westerners !!

CORRESPONDENCE

VICTORIA RECREATION OLUB REGATTA.

To the Editor of the 'CHINA MAIL.' Sir, -I have just had an opportunity of seeing a programme of the forthcoming regatta, which announces that out of thirteen races five are open to clubs other than the V.R.O., under certain conditions. These conditions this year are somewhat extraordinary, at any rate for Hongkong. The condition to which I wish to call attention more particularly is attached to each of the five open races, and is that the race is to be rowed in boats the property of the competing club or unit. Which means, that any olub possessing a superior racing boat would have an ammense advantage. There is no time now for any club to have a boat built before the regatts, and the fact that the V. R.C. have had them built would lend all to suppose that the condition had been framed to suit that circumstance. It has been the custom in past regattas that if a competing club elected to row in its own boat, for the opposing clubsto have the option of rowing in similar boats possessed by the competing club so electing. in which case the boats to be drawn for, and in the case of at least one of the five races, the Challenge Cup, or perhaps better called the Inter-club Challenge Cup, this is one of the conditions laid down He hoped that there would never be and which cannot be set aside without his permission. The next race calling for special remark is the International Ch Ilenge Cup, and to tack such a condition to the Colony, and the Hongkong Club, I am sure, would be glad to lend a boat to any crew who wished to compete, and which need not be composed of members of any club. I do not know the conditions attached by the donom of this cup, but think that in this instance they are being > broken in the spirit if not the letter. The ladies' prize is this year to be open to members of the V.R. C. only; it was not always so, and it is well that the ladies who are subscribing should be made aware of the fact. It should not be forgotten that the expenses of the Regatta are defrayed almost entirely by public subscription, and the V.R.C. is no longer the representative rowing club of the Colors. It would be more sporting, and better policy, if the V.R.C. made the ladies' grize an open race, at least for Hong. kong Clubs, and that the other five open races were run under the same conditions as to boats as the Interclub Challenge Cup. -Yours truly,

_C. H. GALE.
